Voting instructions:

At the General Meeting including advance voting, the proxy representative shall exercise the voting rights of the shareholder who has granted the authorisation in each of the items on the agenda of the General Meeting as indicated with a cross (X) below.

- The option “Yes” or “In favour” means that the shareholder is in favour of approving the proposal.
- The option “No” or “Against” means that the shareholder objects to the approval of the proposal. By voting in advance, it is not possible to submit a counterproposal to the General Meeting or demand taking a vote.
- “Abstain from voting” means giving an empty vote and shares are considered to be represented in the General Meeting, although the shares are not considered to be voting in favour or against anything. This is meaningful, for example, in resolutions requiring a qualified majority, as in qualified majority items all shares represented at the General Meeting are taken into account and abstentions thus have the same effect as votes Against/No. Therefore, abstaining from voting affects the voting result. Shareholders should be aware of this, especially if giving a vote against is not their intention.

The shareholder’s shares are not taken into consideration in an item in question, not considered as shares represented at the General Meeting and not counted as cast votes with regard to the item in question if

- no voting instruction has been indicated with a cross
- there are more than one voting instruction indicated with a cross on the same item
- other text or markings than a cross (X) have been used to indicate a voting instruction

In a situation where votes have been cast in advance several times or via more than one voting channel, for example, both electronically and by using a form, the votes cast most recently will prevail.

If the shareholder does not state otherwise, the given voting instructions are assumed to concern all shares of the shareholder.
